

Health, Safety and Environmental (HSE) Policy

Commitment

Component Process & Repair Limited is committed to ensuring the health and safety of all persons who may be affected by our activities. We also recognise our responsibility to protect and, wherever possible, to improve environment.

In order to achieve this commitment CPR is working towards its implemented Environmental Management System which will satisfy the requirements of BS EN ISO 14001.

Health, safety and environmental performance are important to us and we expect all our employees, visitors and contractors to support this commitment by complying with our policies and procedures and to remain aware of individual legal and moral obligations.

In particular, we are committed to deliver on the following promises:

Environmental

- Manage environmental matters as an integral part of our daily activities and services.
- Prevent pollution and also conserve resources through waste reduction, recycling and minimisation of consumption of energy and water.
- Make continual improvement to the environmental management system.
- Conduct all activities in compliance with applicable legal requirements, whilst also taking into account industry best practice or other requirements.
- Setting and reviewing environmental objectives and targets.

Occupational Health and Safety

- Provide safe and healthy working conditions to prevent work related injury and ill health.
- Satisfy applicable legal requirements and industry best practice.
- Actively communicate and involve our employees in the development and implementation of our OH&S management system.
- Control OH&S risks by means of an appropriate hierarchy of hazard controls.
- Make continual improvements to the health and safety management system by setting and reviewing objectives and targets.
- Provide information, training and supervision to our employees, contractors and visitors.

We will communicate this policy to all persons working for or on behalf of the company and make it available to employees, interested parties, and the public

Review and authorisation

This commitment will be reviewed periodically, but no later than three years from the date of last view.
